

Save us from a boring training!

The Olden Days...

One way information transfer

And a bit less old...

One way information transfer

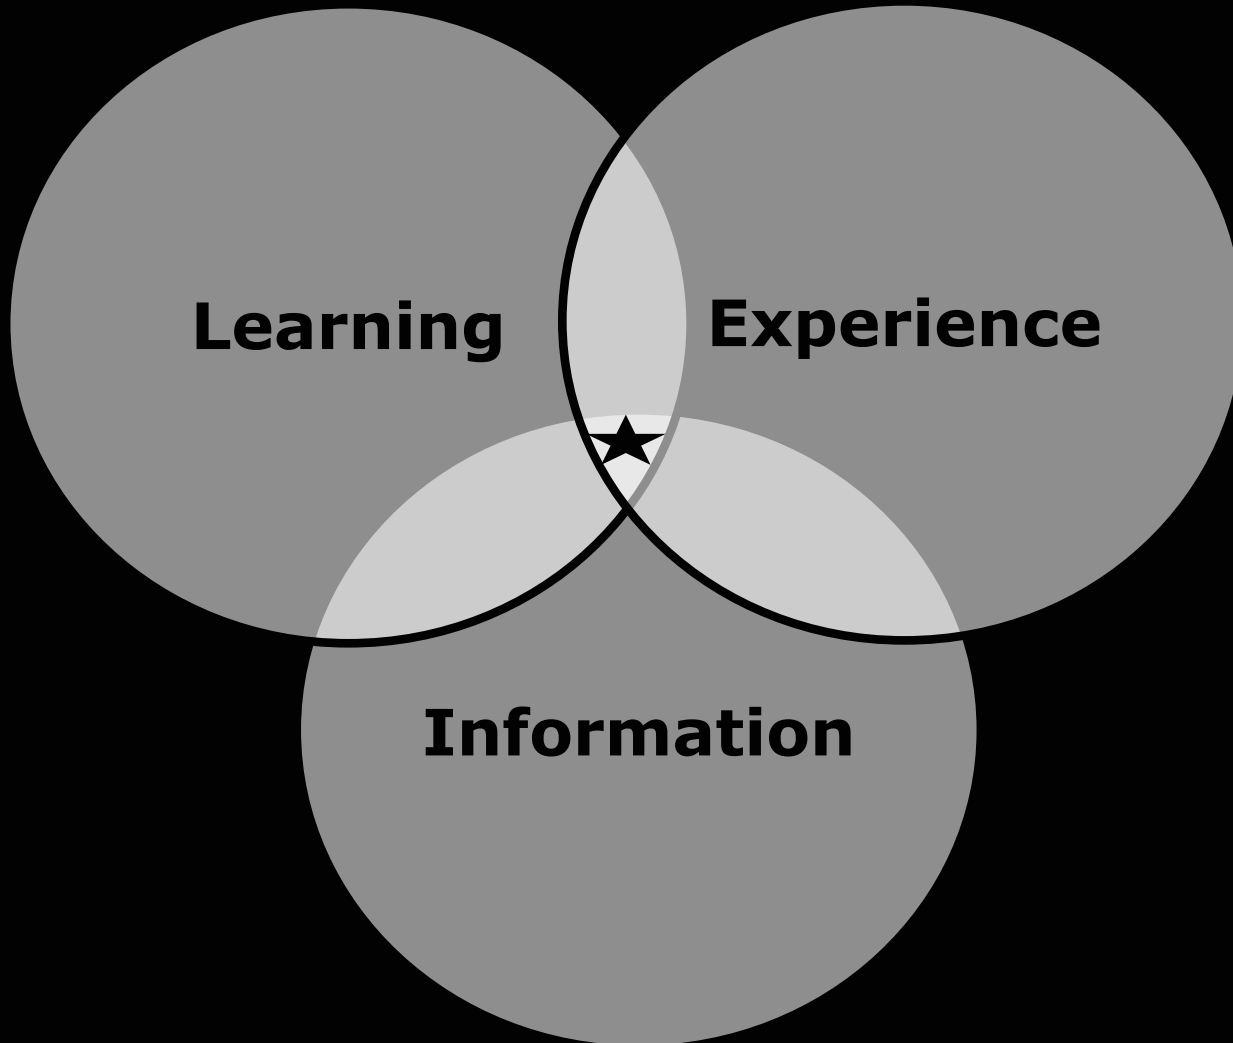

Reading a long paragraph exactly as it appears on the PowerPoint slide about a shocking statistic I just learned about, followed by all kinds of vague lingo that no one will remember two seconds from now, capped off by

Identify what people need to DO
Not what they need to know

Identify what people need to DO
Not what they need to know

We believe in...
people and collaboration

Collaboration shows that the most important things in our lives are not what we do, make, build and create

but the people
who are doing
it with us

A collaborative workspace

- ✓ to manage training & educational content
- ✓ to store and exchange source files
- ✓ to support localisation and control versioning

To save time and resources

-> Quickly find the resources you need

-> Collaborate easily and effectively

Courses by Subject area

Standards

Industries

Business Trainings

Latest Courses

Get started - all you need to know

- File naming conventions
- Glossary
- Translation manual

Tips and Forms

- Templates

Courses by Format

eLearning

Video

Classroom

Courses by Languages

English

French

Global Office

Albanian

Arabic

Chinese

Croatian

Danish

Dutch

Greek

Hungarian

Indonesian

Soon available

Learning Content Management System (LCMS)

<http://ocp.gs1.org/lcms>

(Use your GS1 MO Zone login)

What's in the pipeline?

GS1 FY 14-15 --> Q4 (April - June 2015)

Industries

GS1 in Border Procedure Management

Fresh Foods

GS1 in Apparel

Warehousing (update)

Standards

Barcode 2D conformance

Global Solutions

GS1 Product and Consumer Safety

Contact Information

Claire DALIER

Training & Education Department

GS1 Global Office

326 avenue Louise

1050 Brussels - Belgium

D +32 (0)2 788 78 43

E claire.dalier@gs1.org

www.gs1.org

