

2021 Q1 Executive Summary

Global Standards Management Process (GSMP)

GS1 Standards Week to be held virtually 25-27 May 2021

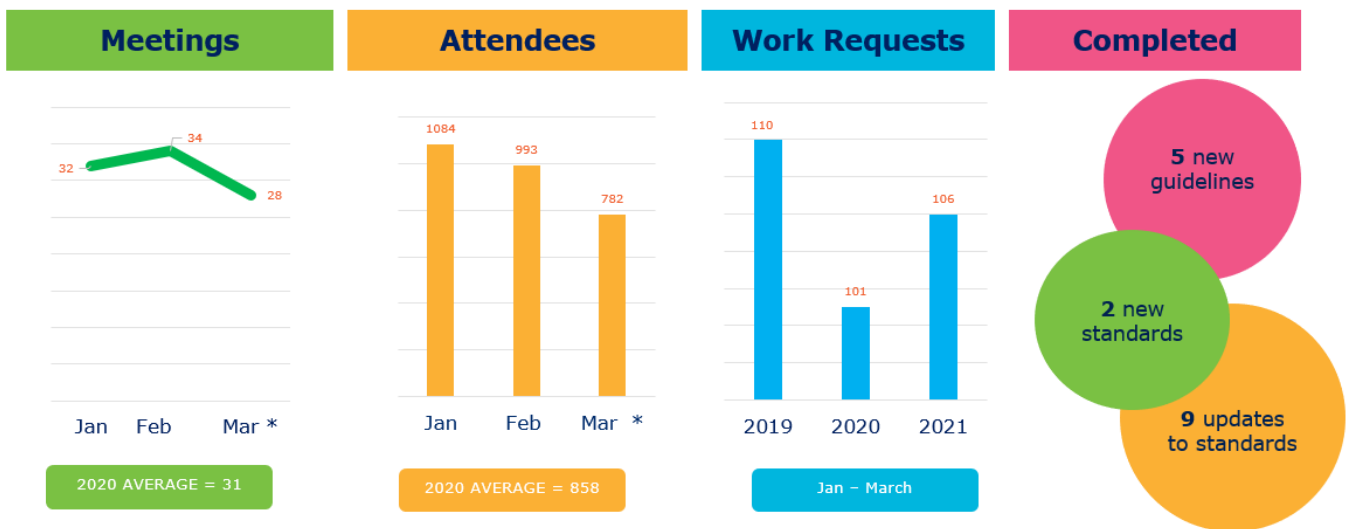

Join us this May for GS1 Standards Week, a free virtual event bringing together standards professionals from around the world working together to shape the future of industry.

The heart of GS1 Standards Week is the work groups that participate in the Global Standards Management Process (GSMP). These groups will meet to ensure business challenges are being addressed, and to help develop global standards that are especially relevant in today's changing environment. Join us to take part in this exciting event where key stakeholders will work together to shape the future of standards.

Stay tuned for future communications announcing the full programme for the event and registration details.

Regards,
Andrew Hearn Vice President, Global Standards Development (Andrew.Hearn@gs1.org)

Participation in GSMP remains strong!
